United States Department of Agriculture

Agricultural Marketing
Service

January 2001

Farmers Market Coloring Book

Published by:
United States Department of Agriculture
Marketing and Regulatory Programs
Agricultural Marketing Service
Transportation and Marketing Programs
Wholesale and Alternative Markets

January 2001

USDA Farmers Market Coloring Book compiled by Jennifer-Claire Klotz, Economist,
Wholesale & Alternative Markets, USDA

Special thanks to Erica Szlosek, California Field Office, Farm Service Agency, USDA. Visit their Website for kids at http://www.fsa.usda.gov/ca/agforkids.htm.
Additional clip art from Agricultural Communications,
Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University
(http://agpublications.tamu.edu/clipart/).

For more information on farmers markets or other farmer direct marketing activities, visit http://www.ams.usda.gov/directmarketing

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

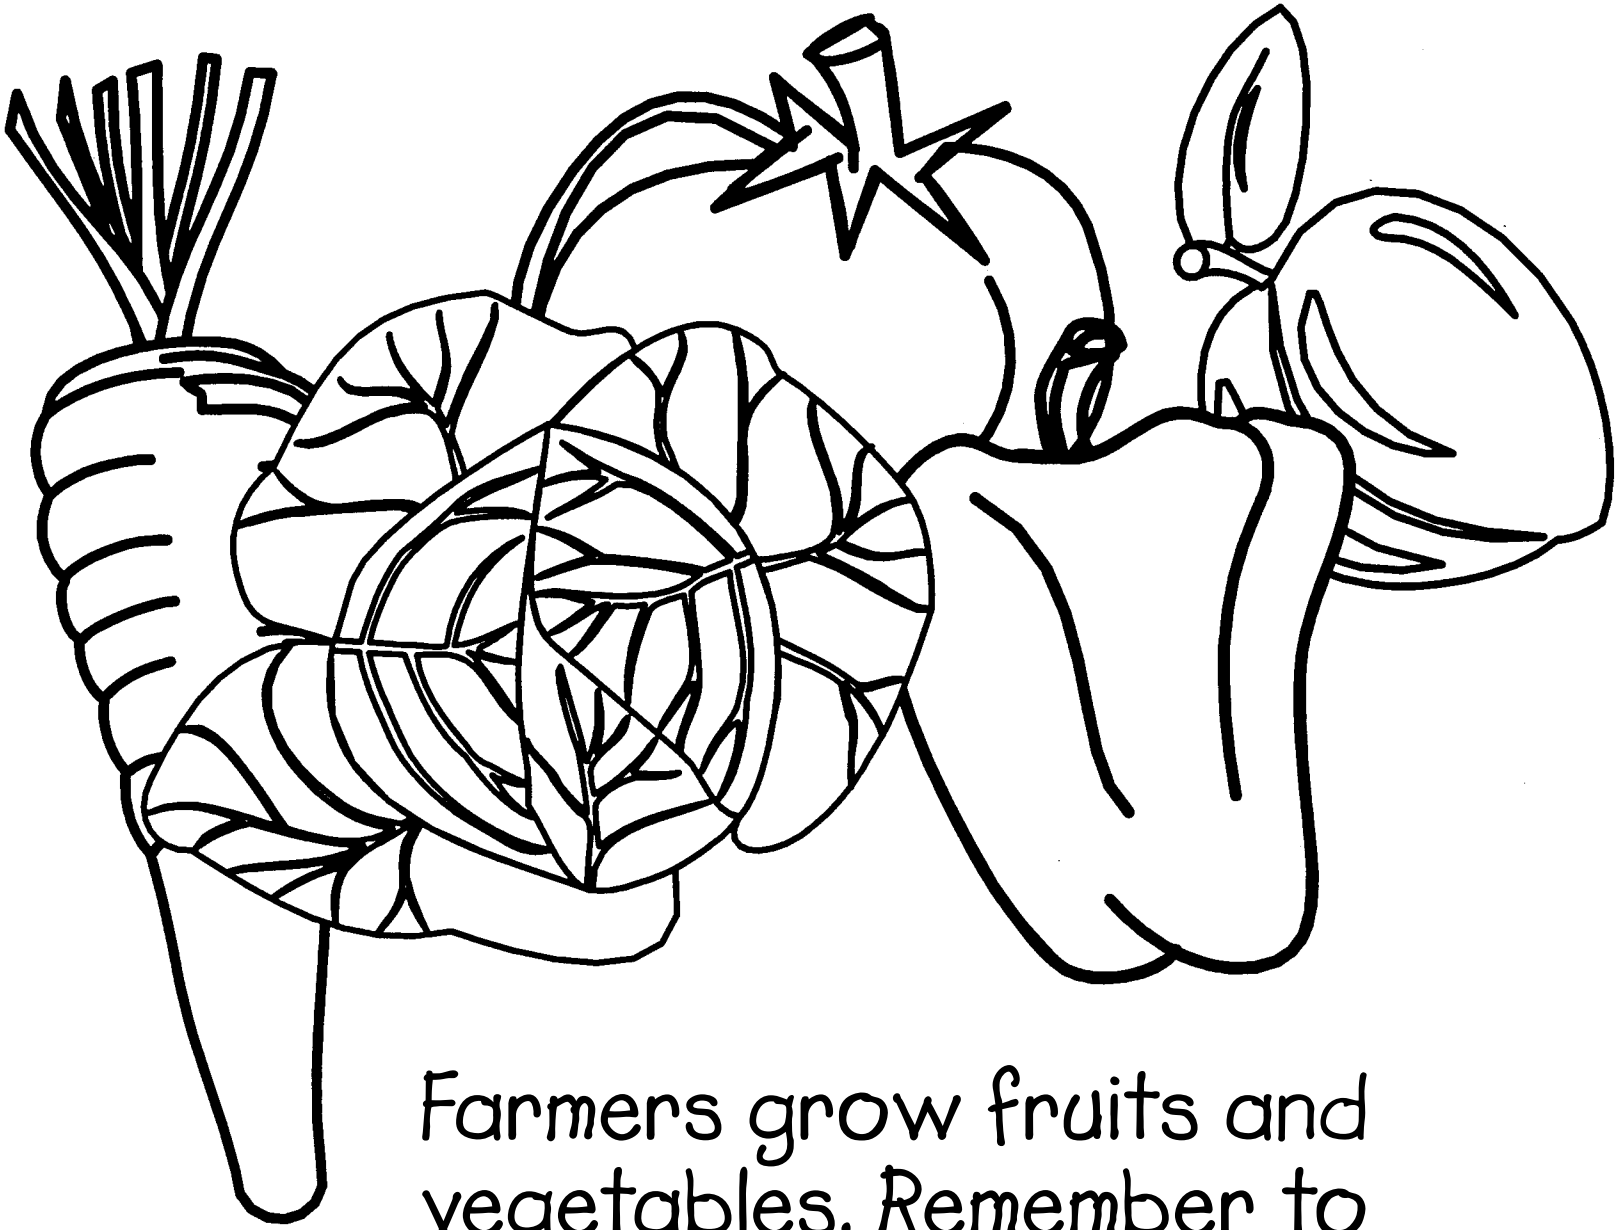
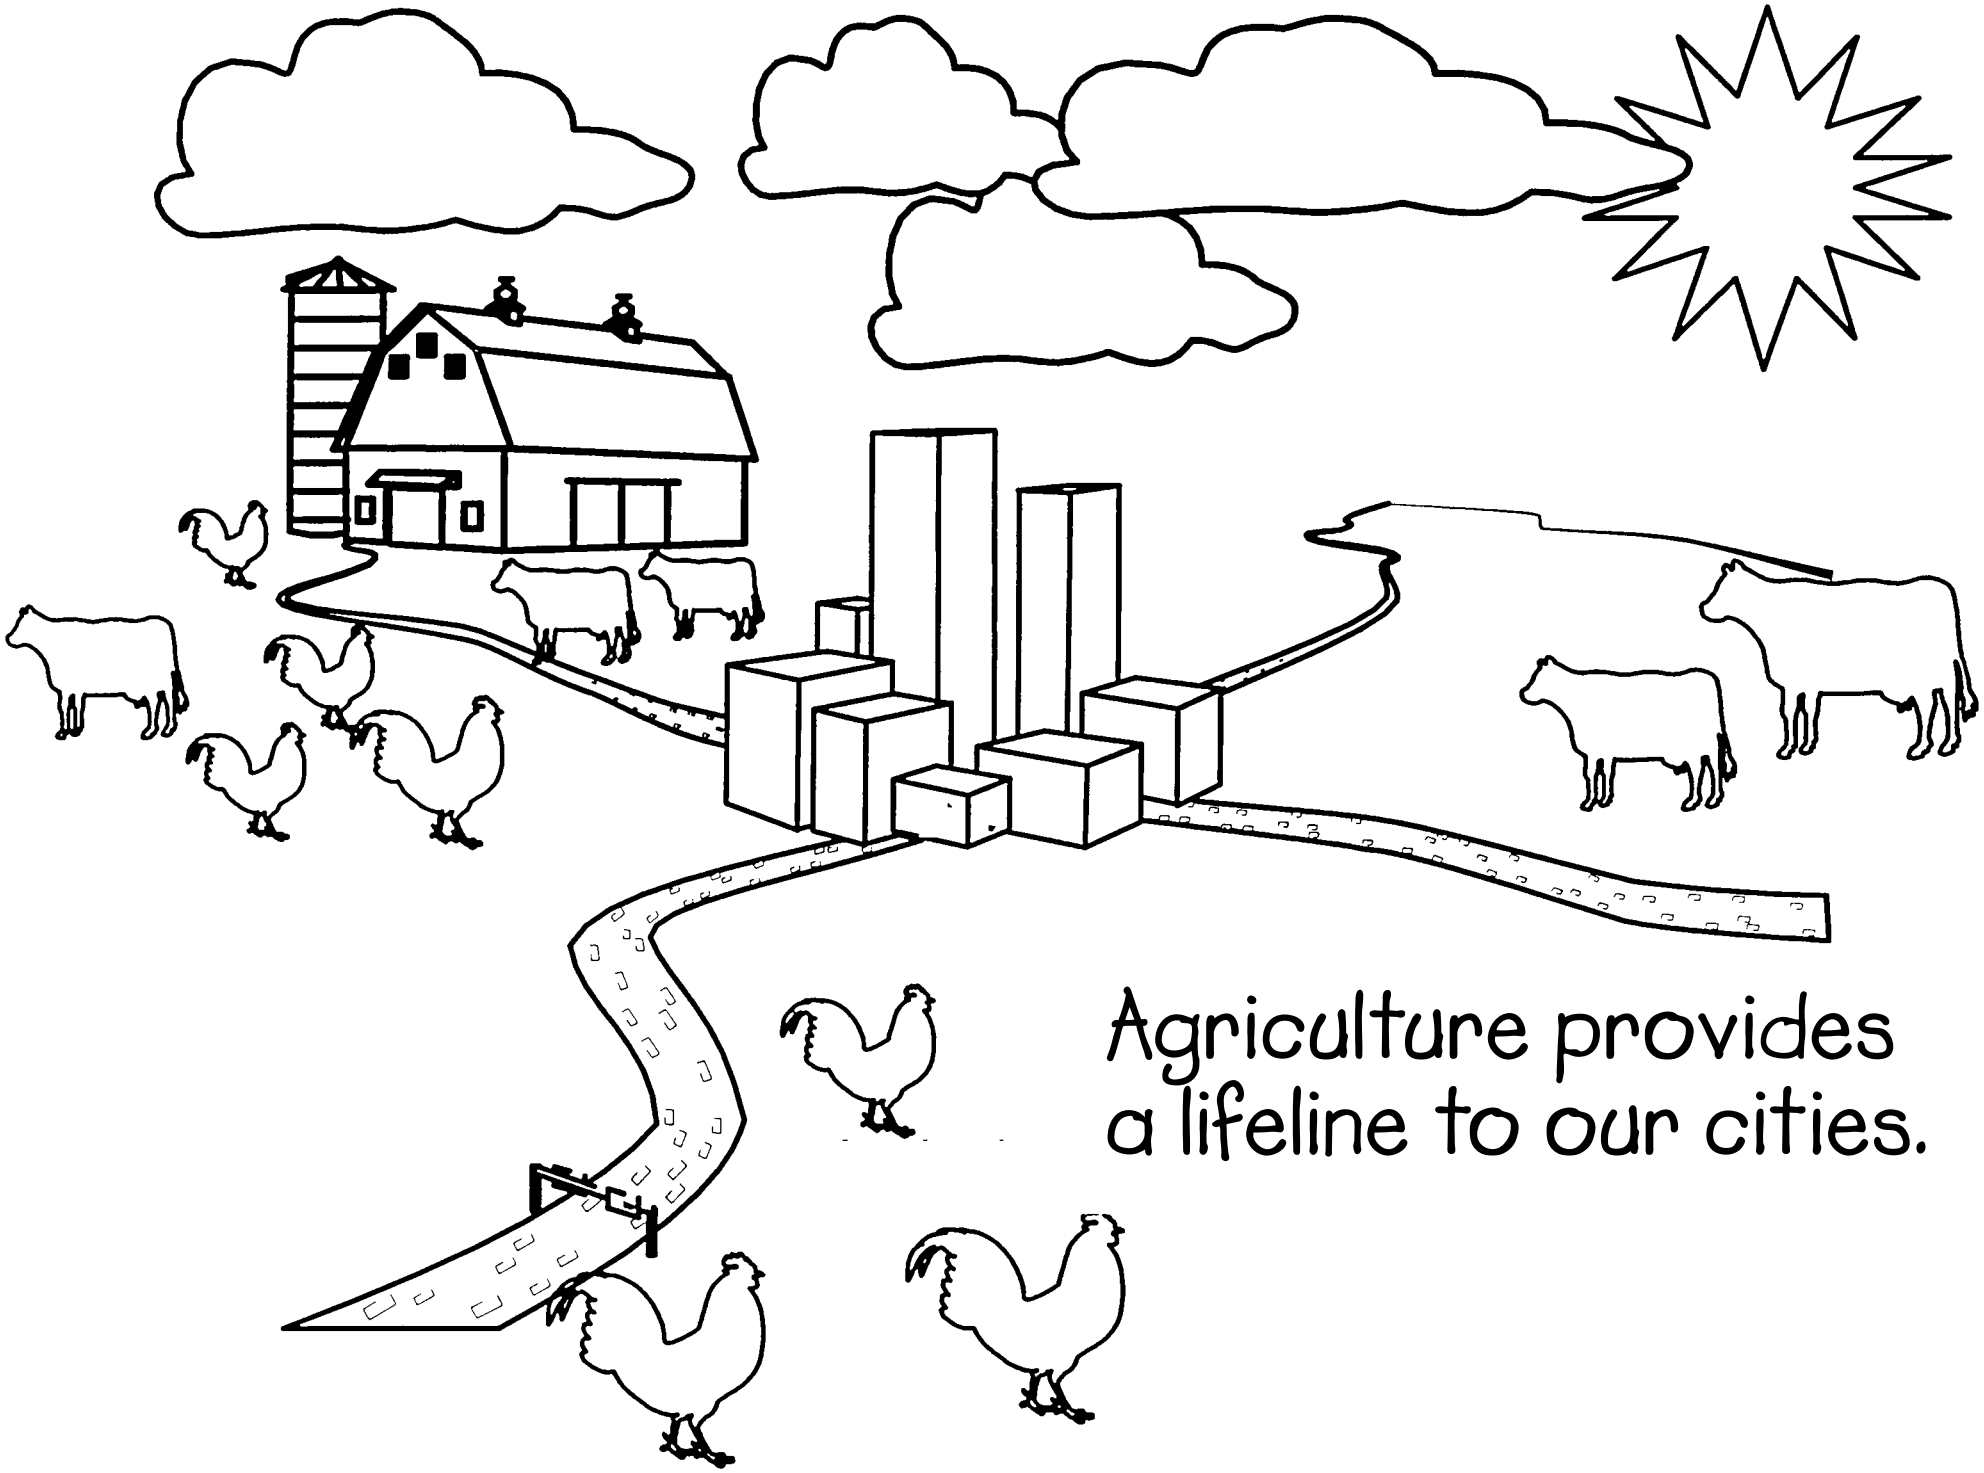
Jumping for joy.
The farm life
is for me!



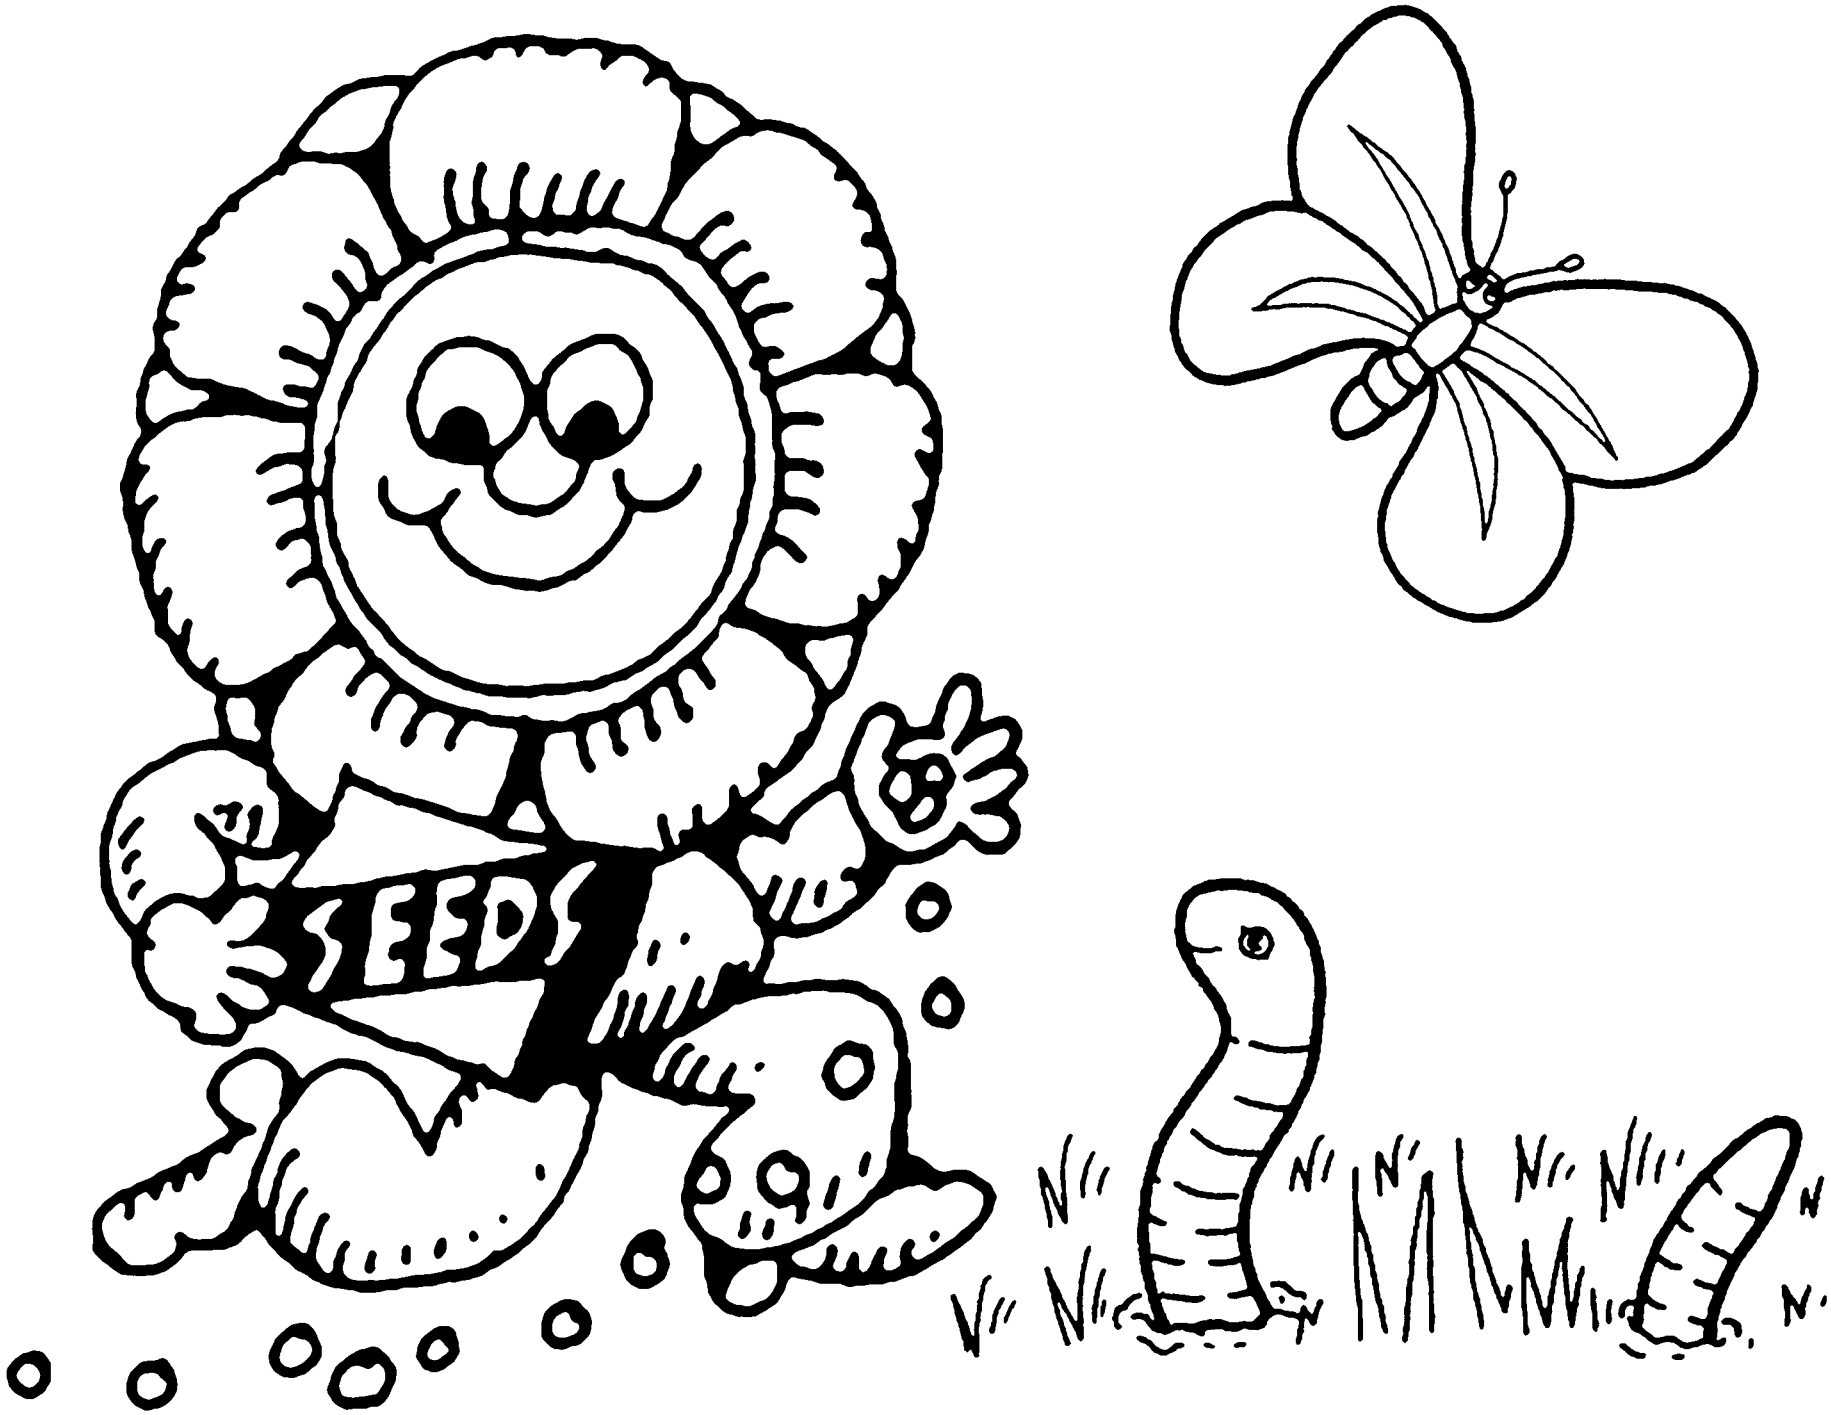
Farmers grow fruits and vegetables. Remember to eat five every day!

Food is just plain fun!



Agriculture provides a lifeline to our cities.

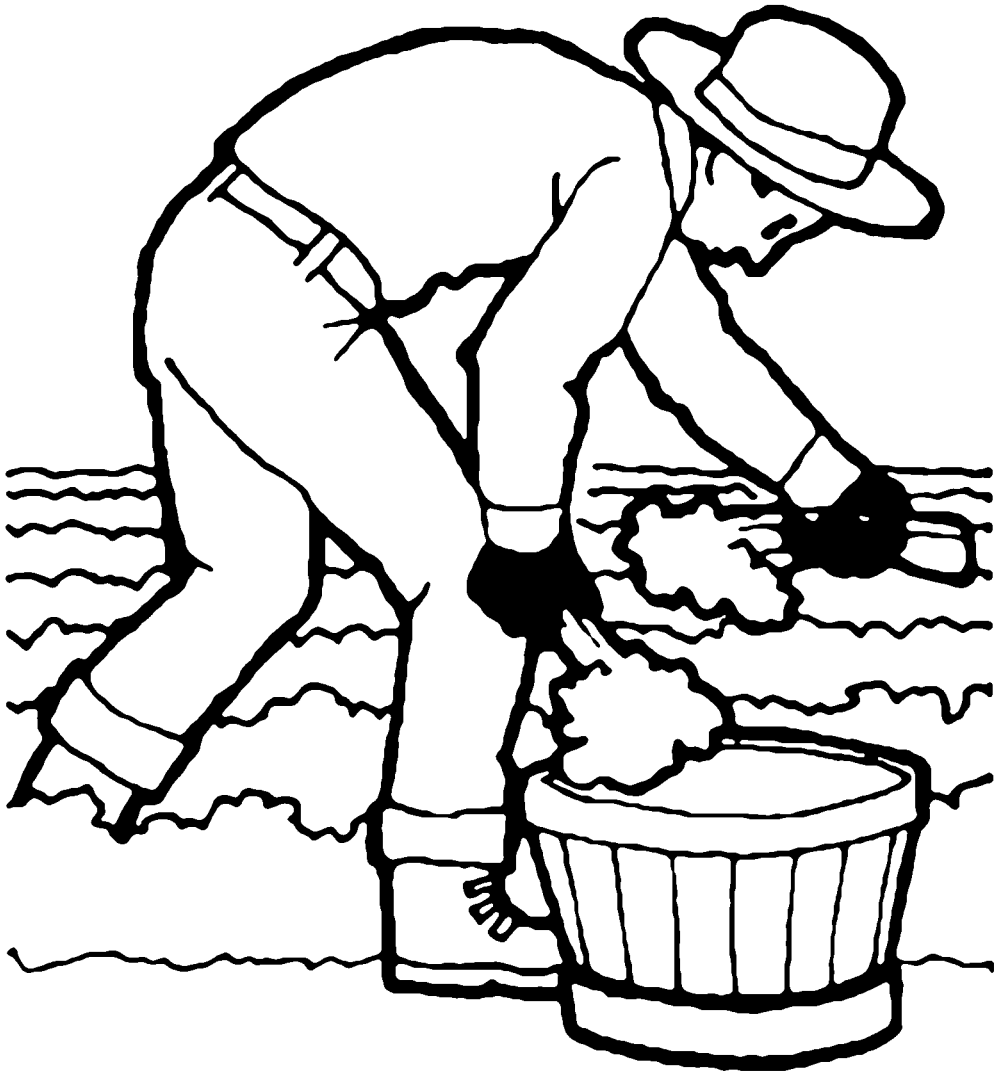
American farmers grow the food that feeds the world.



SEEDS

Eating lots of fresh fruits and vegetables will make me a better player!

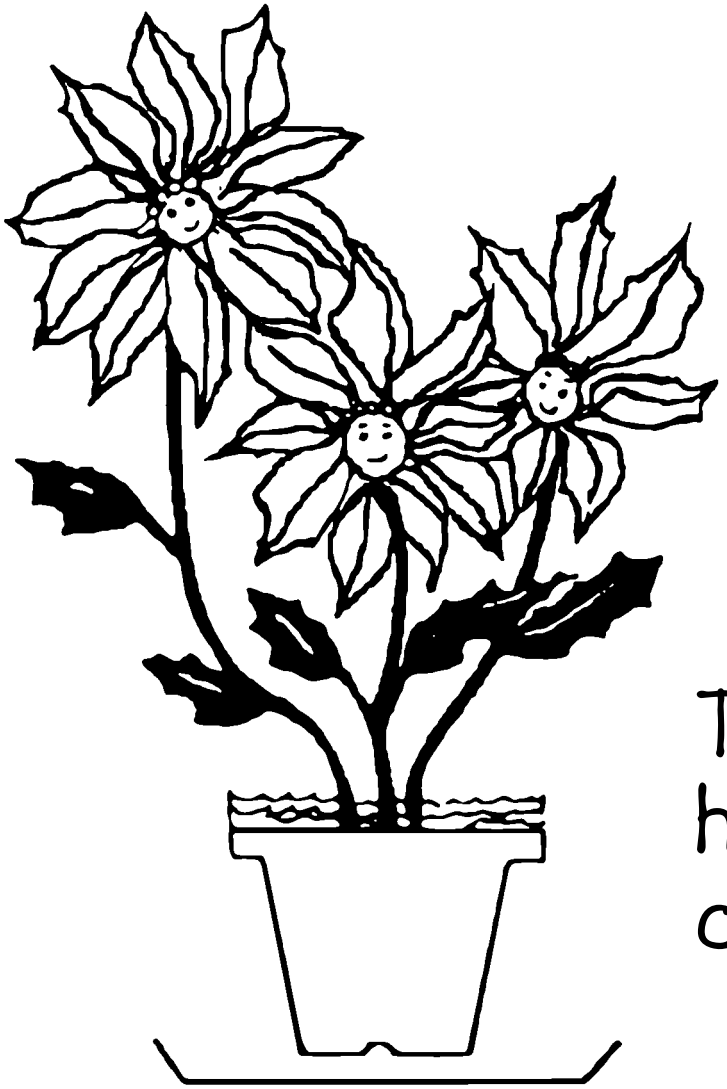
People shop at farmers markets
all over the world.



Farmers get up early in the morning to pick the freshest vegetables for the farmers market!

The farmers market is a great place to catch up with your neighbors! And...

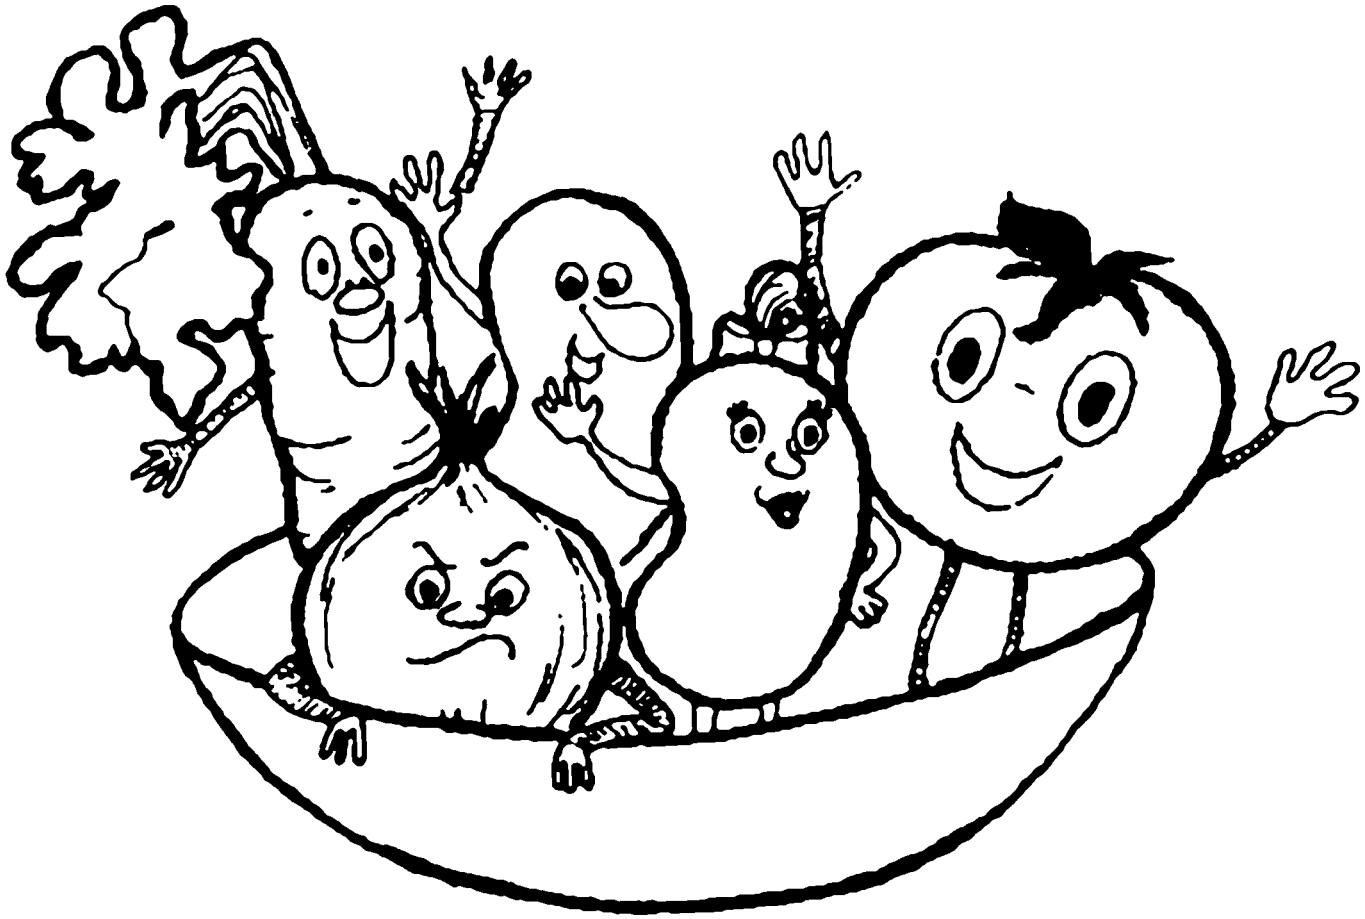
...hang out with some cool carrots!



The farmers market
has super flowers
and plants too!

Fresh ingredients make dinner extra tasty!

People who live in towns and cities also grow food and flowers.



Come to the farmers market soon!

What do you mean
we don't get to go to the farmers
market this week?!?